

Our Value this final half term of the year is passion. Passionate people are always focused on what can be rather than what is and are always chasing the next goal with the unwavering belief that they'll achieve it. Passionate people are a firm shoulder to lean on, give trusted opinions, are a safe pair of hands and don't give up easily. I think that Pentaloae are the perfect embodiment of our value, they have shown passion in abundance this week at PGL. Each and every child has given their all and achieved huge personal goals. This year more than ever the residential has proved to be a vital part of Y6 and has given the children an opportunity to show off their amazing courage, teamwork and kindness. Huge thanks to Mrs Cooper and Mr Fair for your care and enthusiasm this week. Have a restful weekend everyone. Best wishes Miss Finney

This week's Writing Showcase features writers from Teme and Lugg Class. Each week the published writers will receive a pen and at the end of term we will award prizes for the best published pieces.

Alice (Y4) has written an interesting report about how the Olympic Games have changed and developed throughout the years.

In ancient Greek times there were only ten Olympic games, which were played with no clothing. The main game was a short foot race which was 700 feet long and straight. In modern day Olympics there are more than thirty five sports played.

In ancient Greek times there was only one winner. There were no medals like there are today, instead the winner was given a wreath of olive leaves. The olive leaves were taken from a sacred tree that was located at Olympia, behind the temple, dedicated to Zeus. Zeus was the king of Gods and was said to live at Mount Olympus.

Did you know that only men, boys and unmarried women could attend and if you won a statue was built in your honour. In conclusion the Olympic games has changed very much in the past 2700 years!

Wye Class Portraits

This week Wye class have been learning about the artist Arcimboldo who was best known for creating portrait heads made entirely of objects such as fruits, vegetables, flowers, fish and books. Today Wye class had a go at designing their own portraits inspired by Arcimboldo.

Thank You

We would like to say a big thank you to Mrs Amos and the volunteers that helped tidy up Dragons den and thank you to Mrs Coppock and Mrs Glubb for the plants that you kindly donated. The children are thrilled with the results of all the hard work.

Stars of the Week

Headteacher's Award

Pentaloe we are so pleased that you got to experience all that PGL has to offer. I know that you will have lasting memories of fun, friendship and personal goals that you have smashed. We are so very proud of you all.

Little Cup of Kindness

Oli L — Thank you for the quiet and supportive friendship that you show towards your friends and classmates.

(Reception) Caelan

Well done for trying really hard this week. It has been lovely to see you approaching number activities with independence and showing greater willingness to read with your friends.

Please keep this up!

(Year 1) Luke

For your amazing hard work this week. You have shown great resilience particularly with our writing tasks. Well done for using our resources in the classroom, you really have persevered to achieve the end goal.

(Year 2) Charlie

For always having a positive attitude towards your learning and being a thoughtful, caring and helpful member of the class. You face every challenge with determination and resilience. You are a star!

(Year 3) Poppy

For your passion and enthusiasm for the work on our bee project. Your design for the bee friendly garden showed a real talent and flair.

(Year 4) Elsa

For focusing hard to understand division with remainders, using whole/part modelling. You have been a role model pupil; showing true dedication and resilience to master this technique – well done, I am very proud of you!

(Year 5) Noah

For being a fantastic role model and a showing a great learning attitude. You have focused and produced brilliant work this week while also role modelling excellent, mature behaviours worthy of Year 6!

Dear Lord,

Thank you for seeing us through this week.

Thank you for the challenges and the blessings.

Thank you for your grace and love.

Please help us to love others with your love and be a source of kindness, comfort and encouragement to those around us this weekend.

In Jesus' name.

Amen
